

The main focus for this project comes from the in-depth research completed that ensures a positive and helpful experience within this mental health centre. These focuses include educating the users within the space to offer guidance with their recovery, comfort those visiting the centre to provide a safe place for healing, and lastly embrace

The Sanctuary is designed to offer a second home to those in need. It provides a safe, comforting, welcoming environment to assist those who are struggling. All aspects of interior design have been carefully thought out to ensure a positive and helpful experience for users of the centre. The Sanctuary accommodates youth between the ages of 15-24, and includes inpatient housing units along with the other amenities. The goals for this center were reached through a thoughtful design process, hoping to connect one another and create a community away from the stigmatism.

Flowers are a strong symbol of protection. Their natural instinct is to close in their petals to keep their center safe.

Sunflowers in particular are a world renowned known symbol for mental health awareness. They symbolize hope, happiness, joy, and loyalty.

The Sanctuary will protect its users, be loyal to them no matter who they are, and bring hope and happiness to those who need it.
